

Comparing three approaches to giving

Items to consider	Community Foundation Fund	Commercial Donor Advised Fund	Private Foundation
Background	National network of 191 community foundations created by and for their communities. Work in collaboration with local charities.	Led by financial institutions and investment firms.	As of 2016 there were 10,644 active foundations in Canada, of which 5,556 are private foundations.
	Vancouver Foundation pioneered donor advised funds (DAF) in Canada establishing first fund in 1952.	Came to Canada in 2002.
Administrative Requirements
Start-up costs	None.	None at the bank-owned DAF programs. Some independent firms charge consulting fees, others charge set up fees. There are over 50 commercial DAF providers now.	Legal expenses for establishing charitable objects and registration filing can be $5 - $10,000. Accounting costs can vary depending on complexity of tax planning associated with setup.
Minimum contribution	Varies by community foundation. Generally between $10,000 and $25,000. Most community foundations require a minimum to be reached before granting can begin. Some community foundations allow several deposits to reach a minimum.	Varies from $10,000 to $250,000.	No mandated minimum, but expert opinion varies from capital of $1 million to $5 million.
Ongoing costs	Pooled administration provides economy of scale and lowers annual fees to between 0.5% and 2.0%.	Fees will vary and published rates may or may not include all charges. Administration fees are usually quoted separately from investment management fees. Additional fees may be charged for grant distribution, reporting, and trailer fees and Investment Advisor compensation.	Typically, administrative fees vary from 0.75% to 1.5% of assets, not including investment management fees and depending on size and staffing. Some typical administrative expenses include: legal, incorporation and registration fees, investment management, annual accounting and audit fees, office rental and supplies, staff salaries and benefits (if applicable), travel and subscriptions/memberships.
CRA Reporting	Community foundation handles reporting.	Financial institution administering commercial gift fund handles reporting.	Accountant, lawyer or staff person handles reporting.
Governance	Arm's length board of directors and committees comprised of a cross-section of local community leaders, with diverse and complementary skill sets.	Board membership of the financial institution varies, but generally includes members of the financial institution's senior staff and board of directors.	Board of directors comprised of trustees/directors initially chosen by the donor who established the private foundation. A private foundation is not required to have most of its board members at arm's length.
Tax Status	Institution is a registered charity - public foundation. Individual donor advised funds are not registered separately.
